START NEW SUBMISSION Submit a new paper using our refreshed v1.5 system. What changed?

Preflight Checklist for New Submissions

- If your submission is written in TeX you must upload your source. PDFs produced from TeX may be declined. Learn more about why TeX source is required
- Experienced authors recommend putting all the files you will upload into one folder before starting. Read how one author prepares a clean upload
- Common errors that slow down announcement include missing files or references. Double check for missing content before uploading. Learn more about common mistakes
- All announced content is archival and cannot be removed. Make sure that data you do not want archived is not part of your upload, for example TeX comments in your source. Read more tips from an arXiv author

Are there articles you are an author of on arXiv that are not listed here?

If you have the paper password use the Claim Ownership with a password form

If you do not have the paper password or are claiming multiple papers use the Claim Authorship form.

For more information please see our help page on authority records.

You are encouraged to associate your ORCID iD with your arXiv account. ORCID iDs are standard, persistent identifiers for research authors. ORCID iDs will gradually supersede the role of the arXiv author identifier. To associate your ORCID iD with your arXiv account, please confirm your ORCID iD.
